Wheat Dumped Out On Ground In Northwest

No Place To Store 6,100,000 Bushels

SPOKANE, Wash. — (AP) — There's no place to store it and no place to ship it so farmers in this rich wheat-producing area have had to dump more than 6,100,000 bushels out on the ground. They have had to dump wheat before but never in piles like the ones that dot the inland empire of eastern Washington, eastern Oregon and northern Idaho today. The biggest before was 5,000,000 bushels in 1946.

Warehouses Bulge

It sits out in the wind, the sun and the rain. It might even be there when it snows. It sits alongside warehouses already bulging with wheat. Unless prolonged wet weather sets in, much of it can be salvaged.

The Pacific Northwest Grain Dealers' association got out a report on the situation yesterday and took a dim view.

The harvest in the three-state area is estimated at 107,000,000 bushels, a 12 per cent increase over last year. That goes in with 32,000,000 bushels carried over from 1949.

"We now have 129,000,000 bushels of wheat in the area," said Peter Stallcop, managing secretary of the association. "The most wheat that the Pacific northwest can use for feed, seed and human consumption during the next 12 months is 35,000,000 bushels."

Box Car Shortage

"The commodity credit corporation has promised to move 10,000,000 bushels before the end of the year. It's beginning to look like we'll have to move 70,000,000 bushels out of the Pacific northwest between January 1 and the harvest next year to be in as good a position as we were this year. Frankly I don't think we can do it," Stallcop said.

He didn't say what would happen to all the wheat if it can't be moved.

The box car shortage, bumper crops and prices and freight rates that make it difficult for northwest wheat to compete in the east and south are regarded as the big factors in the situation.

Communists Building Up For New Punch In Korea

By RUSSELL BRINES

TOKYO, Saturday, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Allied troops hacked out slight gains at opposite ends of the rain-lashed Korean warfront Friday against dangerously rebuilding Red forces.

Little fighting took place on the whole 120-mile battleline. Americans surmised this meant a North Korean buildup during the lull for a new offensive smash.

Thrust PETERS OUT

A U. S. 8th army spokesman said the Red drive by 50,000 men on Taegu, main allied base on the central front, had "petered out."

probably from lack of supplies and sufficient manpower for the present.

General MacArthur's headquarters warned of a possible new offensive either in the southwest, north or east.

The buildup seemed greatest on the southern coastal approaches to Pusan port, chief allied base in Korea.

Civilians Evacuated

In Masan port, 27 airline miles west of Pusan, allied authorities ordered removal of all civilians not needed in the war effort.

This was a precautionary measure in the face of a reported offensive buildup to the west and threat of infiltration by Red agents ordered to stir up trouble among the 75,000 population.

Five thousand were evacuated from Masan in the first batch Friday.

Battle Mountain, a rugged peak about 12 miles northwest of Masan on the southwestern front, was retaken Friday by the U. S. 25th Infantry division. It was the ninth time the peak changed hands.

Friday night the Reds plastered the mountain with an artillery barrage. Communist infantry struck immediately afterwards.

Try To Close Gap

American and South Korean

troops gained a few yards near the east coast in their efforts to close a five-mile gap in their lines. AP Correspondent Bill Ross at the front reported the U. S. and South Korean troops opened separate attacks through the murky weather to try to close the gap.

The hole remained after hasty battlefield patching had sewed together a bigger hole punched out by a Red breakthrough earlier in the week.

At dusk the doughboys had made little progress. They were halted by rugged terrain plus the drenching rain which reduced air support to six sorties Friday.

Main Base Safe

Taegu, threatened by 50,000 of the 130,000 Reds on the battleline, appeared safe for now. The Reds were stopped north of it by First cavalrymen and South Koreans.

The Communists kept the allies guessing as to where their next drive would start. The whole front could flame into a roaring battle again shortly.

Fighting Friday cost the North Koreans 3,100 casualties. These were piled on the 20,000 they had lost in the southwest alone in a week of fighting. There has been no estimate of their losses from Taegu to the east coast, but casualties have been very heavy there.

Truman Says He Won't Sign McCarran Bill

Republican Congress Possible In 1951

By OLIVER W. DE WOLF

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) said today President Truman's avowed refusal to sign his stringent anti-Communist bill, if Congress passes it, might lead to a Republican victory next November.

The Nevada Democrat said Mr. Truman's statement that he would not sign the McCarran bill if it was sent to the White House was "the most colossal mistake I have ever heard of being made by the president."

Party Leaders Worried

"I should be very unhappy to know that the president would veto this bill, and not the least of my unhappiness would be the fact that the people of the country want the bill enacted into law," McCarran told newsmen.

"This desire of the people in that respect might be very emphatically expressed in November."

The 74-year-old lawmaker, just renominated by Nevada Democrats for a fourth Senate term, was asked if a veto might mean a Republican Congress next January.

Measure Up Tuesday

The Senate, meanwhile, agreed to start voting on the anti-Communist legislation, beginning at 12 noon (EST) Tuesday.

Mr. Truman told his news conference yesterday the McCarran bill was a little worse than the Republican Mundt-Nixon Communist registration bill which passed the House last week under a Democratic label. He said he wouldn't sign it if it was sent to the White House.

The bill, which McCarran put together from five separate Sen-

Hurricane Near Island Resort

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—A hurricane with winds up to 140 miles an hour was stalled 200 miles southwest of Bermuda today, threatening the tiny British island resort. Winds of hurricane force (75 miles per hour or more) extend outward 80 to 100 miles from the center and the weather bureau warned that Bermuda may get "dangerous winds."

The hurricane raked Antigua Island, 250 miles southeast of Puerto Rico, a week ago with damage estimated at $1,000,000 before moving up the Atlantic toward Bermuda.

Florida was still counting damage from an erratic gulf hurricane that left three persons dead, more than 400 homeless and damage of $3,000,000.

Aid poured into Cedar Key, fishing village 80 miles north of Tampa, where 400 were homeless and only two buildings in the town left intact. Yankeetown, another fishing village 15 miles to the southeast, also was pounded by the hurricane.

High tides and gale-driven seas destroyed 40 homes in the St. Petersburg-Clearwater area. Many beach cottages and cabanas were damaged.

Scholle Called Boss In Lansing

DETROIT—(AP)—A Republican candidate for governor said last night that anyone in the political know in Michigan understands that August Scholle "for all practical purposes is governor of Michigan."

Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, in a radio (WJR) address, said Democratic Gov. Williams had given Scholle, Michigan CIO council president, sweeping influence in his administration.

Alger said his nomination was necessary as "the only guarantee of a new regime in Lansing."

"I am convinced after traveling throughout this state that I can beat Gov. Williams and rid our state of a little clique of men who have dominated every act of administration since he took office," Alger said.

He also criticized Wayne County Federation of Labor President Frank X. Martel and said he helped remove a Martel lawyer, Edward N. Barnard, from the group leading the Republican party in Michigan.

"I'm for labor unions," the 43-year-old secretary of state told his audience, "but I am unalterably opposed to the type of leadership that has been provided by Scholle and Martel, and I am convinced the average working man or working woman in Michigan wants neither of them in control of their state government."

Midnight Gas Blast Scorches Farm Area North Of Big Rapids

BIG RAPIDS, Mich.—(AP)—A spectacular midnight gas explosion and fire rocked an area north of here last night.

The blast, followed by a blaze which scorched across ten acres of farmland, frightened citizens from their beds.

There were no casualties. Two farmers' barns were destroyed, however, and one home was threatened.

A newly installed natural gas pipeline near the town of Paris, five miles north of here, blew up. State police said a flaw in the line was to blame.

The line is the property of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. The blast shook windows and the towering flame could be seen for 50 miles.

At one time Paris, a town of 200 population, was "lighted like daylight," witnesses said.

Senator Claims Over $1,000,000 Of State Liquor Stock Missing

LANSING—(AP)—Senator Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield) today demanded an explanation for the "disappearance" of 68,768 cases of liquor worth more than $1,000,000 from the state liquor commission's stocks.

Porter, chairman of the Senate finance committee and the interim audit and finance committee, instructed the auditor general's staff to secure an immediate accounting of the "shortage."

Discrepancy discovered

Porter said he dug the discrepancy out of the commission's own financial statement, sent to a selected list of state officials.

"The statement," he said, "shows the commission started the past fiscal year with 514,511 cases of liquor, purchased 3,453,791 during the year and should therefore have had available for sale during the year 3,968,302 cases. The commission reports it sold 3,413,565 cases and therefore should have had 554,737 at the end of the fiscal year last June 30.

"However," Porter declared, "the commission's own statement lists an inventory on that date of 485,969 cases. Where are the other 68,768 cases?"

"I want to know where they went," Porter said, "and I intend to find out. If the commission and the auditor general's staff can't tell me I will ask for a special audit."

Breakage $40,000

Porter said the auditor general's accounting division has had an auditor in the liquor commission most of the year but that he reported he only balanced dollar figures, and not the case figures. The dollar volume balanced correctly, Porter said he was told.

Porter said the statement was prepared by C. R. Angell, commission comptroller, who specified that it was based on unaudited reports from commission divisions.

He declared the auditors can account for $40,000 worth of liquor losses through breakage and $535,000 which was returned to vendors but that "there still is more than a million dollars worth of liquor unaccounted for."

More U. S. Troops Asked To Defend Western Europe

By ELTON C. FAY

(AP) Military Affairs Reporter
WASHINGTON — (AP)—The United States is being urged by some of its top advisers overseas to press for quick action on early formation of a joint army under a single supreme commander for defense of Western Europe.

Diplomatic and administration officials, getting ready for the foreign ministers conference opening in New York next week, have been told the matter is urgent in light of the military buildup in Communist East Germany.

Can't Be Done

Until a combined army actually does exist there will be no need for the Western Europe powers and the United States to agree on selection of a commander.

Recognizing that all this will need time, the advisers are recommending that meanwhile the United States provide a substantial increase in its present occupation force in Germany, with Britain and France doing likewise.

In the case of the United States, even that would take time and at this moment probably cannot be done at all. The U. S. now has in Germany one army division and a constabulary force. These combat trained elements are part of an overall strength in Europe totaling about 97,000 men.

Reserves Kept Home

The United States now has committed a large part of its effective combat force to Korea. Left in the United States are only two or three divisions. They are needed for reserves in defense at home or for possible use in the Far East should the war there grow still more difficult.

This means that even if the United States decided immediately to send more support to Europe, new divisions would have to be trained and equipped. It takes from eight months to a year or more to start with raw recruits and polish them into a workable, combat infantry division of 17,000 men, equipped with small arms and artillery.

Bigger Marine Corps Proposed

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Two Democratic lawmakers, both former marines, called on Congress today to increase greatly Marine Corps strength and give it equal representation on the joint Chiefs of Staff despite President Truman's wishes.

Rep. Mansfield (D-Mont.) and Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) said they will introduce bills to:

(A) Raise the basic strength of the Marines to 300,000 men; (B) Authorize four divisions and four air wings; (C) Create an Assistant Secretary of the Navy for the Marines; and (D) Place the Marine commandant on the joint Chiefs of Staff.

By mobilizing their reserves, the Marines are now building toward a maximum strength of about 200,000 men. They are represented on the joint chiefs only by a Navy man.

Mansfield and Douglas disclosed their plans as the furor subsided over Mr. Truman's reference to the Marines as a "police force" with a "propaganda machine that is almost equal to Stalin's."

Marine veterans, satisfied with the President's public apology and his appearance before the Marine Corps league yesterday, took out after Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of Defense Johnson instead.

Prisoners Will Clear Out Down Timber In Porcupine Mountains

LANSING — (AP)—Eight to 10 trusty prisoners will be sent into the Porcupine Mountains Sept. 15 to begin removing 1,000,000 board feet of storm-felled timber.

The men will occupy a remote camp north of Wakefield from Monday to Friday and return to the main Porcupine Mountains camp west of Ontonagon for the weekends.

Corrections and conservation department officials said the lumber will be taken to a sawmill at Wakefield to be cut. It will be used for both corrections and conservation projects.

Blood Bank Program Outlined In Lansing

LANSING—(AP)—A new Michigan blood bank program was proposed officially today to the legislature with the goal of blood-typing at least 3,000,000 people by the end of 1953.

The plan was presented to the legislature by the planning committee of the State Civilian Defense Council after conferences with the State Medical society, State Hospital association, State Nursing society, State Pathology society and Red Cross to whom the legislature appealed for advice.

Cost $1,500,000

Essentially it is a merger of existing blood typing programs now being carried on by various hospitals and local health groups with the original state plan presented to the legislature a month ago by Governor Williams. The state plan was developed by Dr. G. D. Cummings, director of the state health laboratory.

Purpose of the blood bank is to provide a pool of persons whose blood types are known so that they could provide transfusions on a large scale in case of an atomic bombing. An actual bank of bottled whole blood cannot be kept for long periods, medical experts say.

Where the original state plan would have cost $3,300,000 in the first year, the new proposal would cost $1,500,000—apparently to embrace the existing local programs.

Col. Lester J. Maitland, planning committee chairman, reported the program calls for the collecting and testing of at least 200,000 blood types a year by existing independent laboratories and blood banks, plus 1,000,000 a year by the state.

Dr. Hsue-shen Tsien, 40, alien Chinese specialist, is held without bond pending a deportation hearing by the U. S. immigration service which charges he is in this country illegally because of membership in a group that advocates overthrow of the government by force.

Russian-born Dr. Weinbaum, 52, was found guilty by a federal court jury yesterday of lying about his membership in the Communist party.

Both scientists were engaged in jet research work at California Institute of Technology.

Dr. Weinbaum was removed from a government-sponsored secret laboratory at Caltech after a U. S. security check. Dr. Tsien has headed the Institute's Guggenheim jet propulsion center, dealing mostly in research for civilian and commercial use.

Caltech issued a statement that the school has "always had complete confidence in Dr. Tsien's integrity and loyalty."

California Forest Fires Under Control; Loss $10,000,000

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—All but two of California's major forest fires were reported controlled today—after weeklong fights in which $10,000,000 worth of timber was destroyed and 150,000 acres were burned over.

The two big fires still raging, in Stanislaus and Mendocino National Forests, cover 47,500 acres. Ernest L. Baxter, U. S. Forest Service dispatcher, said the Mendocino forest fire was set by an incendiary.

Three Republicans In Delta Treasurer Race

There is a contest on the Republican primary ticket for the nomination for Delta county treasurer, but the Democratic candidate, incumbent Robert C. Fryal, is unopposed for nomination on his ticket.

This, the third in a series of biographical sketches of candidates in primary election contests, presents the background of the three Republicans who seek the nomination for county treasurer.

The candidate receiving the largest number of votes in the primary election to be held Tuesday, Sept. 12, will be nominated and his name will appear on the Republican ballot in the November general election.

Republican primary candidates for county treasurer are as follows:

PETER PEDERSEN—Stonington farmer and civic leader.

Born Jan. 9, 1890, at Stonington, Pedersen attended school there and in Marinette county, Wisconsin, and Gordon's Business College in Escanaba. At the age of 22 he was elected Bay de Noe township clerk for two terms, has served as township treasurer and supervisor at various times and is now supervisor and county board member; and a member of the board of education.

Master of Bay de Noquette Grange, Pedersen has long been active in civic affairs in his community. He is a trustee and secretary of Trinity Lutheran church which he helped build; is one of the organizers of REA to extend electric service; is assisting in obtaining extended rural telephone service; and working toward a Stonington community building.

JAMES F. ANZALONE—Accountant, teacher, war veteran.

A graduate of Escanaba High school in 1938 and of Cleveland Commercial College, Escanaba, in 1949, Anzalone is now an accountant instructor at Cleveland Commercial College.

He served four years in World War II with the U. S. Army, including two years in the European combat theater, and was discharged in 1946 with the rating of captain. Born in Escanaba April 4, 1920, Anzalone is married, has a son and a daughter, and resides at 1317 First avenue south.

CHARLES W. MAGNUSON—Escanaba resident, former candidate.

Born in Escanaba and a resident of this county most of his lifetime, Magnuson was a candidate for county treasurer nomination on the Republican ticket in 1938.

He began work for the Delta Hardware company in Escanaba in 1911 and continued in their employment until World War II, when he entered war work doing state. At Willow Run he worked in a bomber plant, and in 1944 was promoted to senior operator of the sewage treatment plant at Willow Run.

Action Begun For Gas Plant

Council Has First Reading of Ordinance

The Escanaba city council, in regular meeting Thursday night, began action on an ordinance authorizing a $125,000 bond issue to finance construction of a propane gas plant.

First reading of the ordinance, drafted by Harris, Hall company of Chicago, was accomplished last night. It will be submitted to voters here in the fall election.

Construction work on the new plant will not begin before next spring, A. V. Aronson, city manager, said last night. A 10 per cent reduction in the city gas rates is anticipated as soon as the new plant is in operation and later, when the bonds have been amortized, the rate will be reduced about 20 per cent, the council was informed.

Plans for converting from the present coal and water gas to propane gas were formulated here this year when it was learned to present gas plant holder was in poor shape and would require an expenditure of about $100,000 to replace. The propane gas would be cheaper, and also give more satisfactory service, the manager has explained.

Bonds to finance the propane plant would bear interest not exceeding two per cent, and would be retired by paying $12,000 Feb. 1, 1952, and $12,000 each succeeding year until Feb. 1, 1961, when the total issue would be retired with a payment of $17,000. Plans call for paying for the plant from gas plant revenues solely. State law requires that on construction of gas and electric utility plants, the matter must be submitted to a vote of the people.

Land, the plant, fogging equipment, and the cost of converting home appliances for using the new gas could be met with the $125,000 issue, the council was informed last night.

Council Holds Meeting Here

Tables Increase In Water Bond Issue

No action was taken by the Escanaba city council, at its meeting last night, on a proposal to increase the water plant bond issue to $800,000.

The increase of $50,000 was suggested by an official of the Harris, Hall company of Chicago to meet any rise in material or labor costs, the city manager told the council.

Councilmen tabled the proposal and instructed the manager to obtain more detailed information on the necessity for increasing the bond issue, from Consoer, Townsend, and company of Chicago, engineers hired by the city to prepare plans and specifications for the water plant.

Harris, Hall company has been engaged to prepare bond ordinances, and bond issues and to assist with other matters related to issuance of bonds for the water and gas plants here.

Want More Information

A. V. Aronson, city manager, told the council, that if the cost of constructing the water filter plant was greater than had been anticipated, the additional bonds could be sold to provide the funds. A second mortgage on the plant would necessitate paying a higher interest rate on additional funds, Aronson said.

Mayor Peter LoLgan stated he was in favor of leaving the bond issue as it is, and raising the additional funds later, if they were needed. Kevin Reynolds, told councilmen he felt information on the need for the increase was insufficient, and that the engineering firm hired by the city should make recommendations on such matters.

Other Business

The council last night accepted the low bid of $1,070 from Northern Motor company in purchasing a new police car for the city. Only one other bid, for $1,356.45, was submitted. A plan to rent a police car on a mileage basis was temporarily tabled.

The city manager was granted permission to purchase two vibrators for the steam plant for $420. Funds for purchase of the units, which will help prevent coal from packing near the steam plant weigh lorry and in the coal shutes, will be transferred from a $1100 budget appropriation for a boiler feed pump, which now is not needed. Councilmen Robert LeMire abstained from voting on the matter.

Petitions for new sidewalks in the 1600 block of Stephenson avenue, on the east side, and on the west side of North 18th street, between North 16th avenue and the ore docks, were accepted and the city manager was asked to instruct property owners to have the sidewalks constructed. The public works department is working on several city projects and will not have time to construct the walks, the city manager said last night. Sidewalks costs will be placed on the tax roll, if property owners do not have the work done themselves, the council ruled.

Fix Election Pay

Permission for the city recreation department to curtail other budgetary expenditures to pay $2,000 for a new furnace for the youth center was granted by the council. Originally $700 had been put in the recreation budget for capital improvements.

An election resolution setting the day of election and poll hours and delegating the city clerk to hire inspectors and clerks for $12 per day and gatekeepers for $8 per day was passed last night.

Due dates for payment of taxes was extended from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15, and Oct. 1 was designated for payment of assessments on alley paving completed this year.

First reading of an amendment to the city zoning ordinance, changing the territory west of 23rd and Ludington streets from commercial to class A residential area was moved last night. A public hearing on the zoning change, in accord with the city master plan, will be held Oct. 5, at a regular council meeting. The change will affect the area between the Bridges property and the C&NW railroad tracks, west to the city limits, except for some commercial and industrial portions on the highway.

First reading of ordinances to vacate one block of South 14th avenue and to decrease one block of South 15th avenue to 60 feet in width was moved by the council last night. Public hearing on the street closing will be held at the Oct. 5 meeting.

A public housing project sponsored by the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce industrial committee will be started in the area soon. Closing of South 14th avenue and narrowing South 15th avenue enables the committee to provide wider lots for construction of the houses the council was told. Petitions for extension of sanitary sewer and water main extensions for the new housing project were accepted. Objections to the sewer and water main improvement will be heard at the next council meeting.

Will Close Alley The council last night also accepted a planning commission recommendation to close Fourth

Forest Fire Danger High

Public Is Asked To Be Careful

The forest fire hazard in the Hiawatha and Marquette national forests is now at its "high" point and probably will become "very high" unless there is rainfall, the Forest Service announced this morning.

Two fires occurred in the Rapid River district in the past week, but fortunately the burned-over area was small. Vegetation in the forest areas has been killed by the frost in recent days. With the heat of the sun, the leaves and grass have become dry as tinder. Duff in the swamplands also is very dry. The public is asked to be careful with cigarettes and campfires in the dry forest areas.

Flanagan's Off To Warm Canada's Cold Crowds

Johnny Flanagan is through lolling on Florida beaches, water skiing all afternoon and tank skating all night. He's off again to the "big show." This time it's a 30 week contract with Barbara Ann Scott's Canadian "Skating Sensations," which will begin rehearsals late this month in Ottawa.

Johnny, Escanaba's first figure skater to make good in the big time, is getting a few weeks rest at the home of his parents, the C. W. Flanagans, 629 South 15th street. He just completed a 47 week tank skating stint at night clubs in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and Union, N. J.

With him as his guest, is the petite Beatrice Lumley, of Owen Sound, Ont., who recently ended a five year contract with the Ice Capades. Miss Lumley is a first cousin of Harry Lumley, formerly goalie with the Detroit Red Wings, now playing with the Chicago Blackhawks. Lumley was voted best goalie in the league last season.

She, too, is off to "Skating Sensations," as a ballet girl. Line skaters do not like the term "choreus girl" which is a dancing term. "Ballet girl" is the proper skating term, says Bea.

The Old Scrubblady
Johnny's big single is still the old scrubblady routine, with innovations, of course, that used to wow Upper Peninsula audiences years ago.

"Skating is no longer the novelty of 10 years ago," says Johnny. "During the past six months the entertainment field has been on the decline. If the war continues, the boom will bring more jobs and more money and things will be on the way up again."

The big shows such as the Ice Capades and Ice Follies are still drawing as huge crowds as ever but tank skating and smaller shows are losing out.

Ten years ago Sonja Henie and Arthur Wirtz started a skating show at the "white elephant" Center theater in New York City. The show made a big hit with audiences and ran strong until about six months ago. It was forced to close in April.

Tank Shows
Tank skating is not as steady work as the regular skating show business but according to Johnny there's less competition and more money. Less competition for him, because there are very few comedians in tank skating, giving Flanagan an "open field."

A 20 by 20 floor is the average size tank. Copper pipes filled with brine or frozen are used. After the skating show, an automatic dance floor is swung over the tank or else placed in sections on the skating space. Usually there are from eight to 15 people in a tank show which run from six to 20 weeks at the same club.

"Skating Sensations" is about half the size of the Ice Capades. The show ran for the first time last year. Directing it is Fred Kelley, brother of the dancing movie star, Gene Kelly.

The Canadian nationwide railroad strike, the army taking over some of the arenas and conflicting hockey schedules have held up rehearsals.

It's Going To Be Cold!

But it won't be long before Escanaba's Johnny Flanagan is once again "mopping up" audiences with his scrubblady act.

"No more Ft. Lauderdale beaches," Johnny said. "This time its weather 40 to 50 degrees below zero."

"We open in Victoria, B. C., and then we're headed east as winter freezes us on," grinned the skater.

But it's a safe prediction that the cold Canadian spectators will warm up when the Irish Mr. Flanagan goes into his act.

Walter Nelson, who operates the Peter Nelson farm at Perkins, has secured a yield of 1,006 bushels of oats from a field of 11.4 acres.

His average yield was 89.9 bushels per acre. This triples the average oats yield per acre in this area, agricultural leaders report.

Nelson is a student in the agricultural on-the-farm training program of Escanaba High school, a federal program under the G. I. bill, underwritten by the Escanaba board of education. A local agricultural committee headed by Joseph Heirman directs the training program here.

Guy Williams was instructor for the group with which Nelson trained. Other instructors in the program are Ray Peppers and Leslie Laakso.

'Adventure In Understanding' Begins In Delta for 20 MSC Foreign Students

Delta county was host today to 20 Michigan State College foreign students from 12 countries who are beginning an 11-day "adventure in world understanding" through the Upper Peninsula.

On farms and in factories, in schools and in 20 different homes in the county the young people from other countries were learning how Americans live and think, how they work and play.

"If we ever are to achieve world peace we must all become better acquainted with each other, and that means people of different races, religions and nations," said Mrs. Louise Carpenter, MSC consultant in adult education, who is accompanying the students on their tour.

Have Many Interests

The project is sponsored by the adult education department of the MSC continuing education service in cooperation with agricultural extension and the public schools. Five of the students are in Gladstone, six in Escanaba, and three each in Rock, Rapid River, and Bark River. They come from Iraq, India, Burma, Japan, Puerto Rico, China, Sweden, Siam, Iran, Greece, Colombia, S. America and Lebanon.

Some of the young people will return to their homelands to teach. Others will be engineers, doctors, musicians, and agricultural advisors. They all speak English and have a lively interest in America and Americans.

Hosts In Escanaba
To derive the utmost benefit from their visit arrangements have been made by J. L. Heirman, county agricultural agent, Hagle Quarstrom, county school superintendent, and school officials to have the students stay each night in a different home.

In Escanaba last night the hosts to students were Mr. and Mrs. Herb Holderman, Mr. and Mrs. Art Aronson, Mr. and Mrs. John Greene, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pearson and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Belanger.

Hosts tonight will be Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Garrard, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Zerbe, Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sawyer and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kent.

Hosts tomorrow night, final night of the students' stay in Delta county, while in Escanaba will be Rev. and Mrs. James Bell, Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Thatcher, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dahlke, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCormick, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Knutsen. Ted McFadden of Cornell will be host for three nights to a student from Iraq.

At School Assemblies
Today the foreign students staying in Escanaba visited the schools and participated in assemblies at Senior and Junior high school. This afternoon they toured the Birds Eye Veneer company plant.

Tomorrow the students will visit the C&NW ore docks in the morning, and in the afternoon will attend the Soo-Escanaba football game. Sunday morning the hosts will invite them to attend church, or the students may attend the church of their choice.

Each evening of their stay the hosts will arrange for friends to drop in for an informal discussion and to meet their foreign student guests.

It's Football Time Again; Grid Game Is Stimulant To Education

IT'S football time again. Delta county high school teams will get into action tomorrow for their opening games of the 1950 season. The Eskymos of the Escanaba high school will play Sault Ste. Marie's Blue Devils at the Escanaba field Saturday afternoon and tomorrow night the St. Joseph Trojans of the St. Joseph high school will meet the Braves of Gladstone high school under the lights at Memorial Field.

High school football is not a silly new-fangledness unrelated to education, as some people believe. It is an important phase of education. It serves to stimulate and solidify school spirit for the student bodies and thereby makes education more palatable. Also, it teaches the participants the value of team training and the importance of individual sacrifices to attain a common goal. Further, it encourages the development of good living habits and healthful physical training.

Another important by-product of high school football is the interest that it directs by the community in the high school educational system. It is lamentable, but true, that many citizens of the community, including some high school graduates, retain a direct interest in school activities only through the interscholastic athletic program.

We are glad that the high school football season is here again. We don't know whether the Eskymos or the Trojans or the Braves will have a winning season, but we'll bet that they provide plenty of interesting afternoons—yes, and evenings, too—for the football fans of the area.

Malik Was Big Headache As UN Council Head

IT'll be a long time before we go through a more irritating 31 days than the month of Russian Jacob Malik's tenure as president of the UN Security Council.

Think back over what we had to listen to from this blocking diplomatic halfback: The United States is guilty of cruel aggression in Korea. We're also invading Formosa, though how this is accomplished by a navy that stays many miles offshore isn't clear.

Then, too, we have aggressive aims against all the rest of Asia. We're just waiting for a good excuse to march in.

Our soldiers are eager to swim all over these inviting rice paddies and scrubby hills. So much nicer, you see, than life at home in America, with its disgustingly shiny automobile, bulky television sets, too rich food, and other smothering material features.

As proof of his evil lust for conquest and blood, the American soldier has been flattening North Korean cities with bombs. He's very precise in this work. He never hits a military installation, no matter how big. With pin-point accuracy, he picks out schools, hospitals, nursing homes, women's knitting clubs, crowded market places and other gathering spots of innocent civilians.

Lately, he's been even bolder, sneaking over the Korean border into Manchuria to blast harmless citizens in Chinese Communist territory.

Of course, there are exceptions in this wicked pattern. Delegate Malik read some telegrams to the council the other day which he said had been sent by G. I. prisoners of war from North Korea. These lads had undergone a change of heart. They called the Korean war senseless, assured everybody (from prison camps hundreds of miles from the fighting) that the South Koreans were finished, urged America to get out.

Now, presumably, there may be people somewhere in the world who fall for this ridiculous guff. But it's hard to believe there can be many. Even Prime Minister Nehru of India, who seems to worry more about western aims in the Far East than he does about Russian ambitions, has no idea the G. I. is in Korea because he likes the place.

Reviewing Malik's 31 days of hopped-up fairy tales, we Americans ought to hang our heads in shame. This is the kind of talk they say we don't match. This is what we must counteract with a huge propaganda campaign of our own.

America is the land of slogans, of advertising genius, of supreme salesmanship. It is possible we can be outdone by such patently obvious gibberish as Malik has been spouting? It can only happen if we don't try. A real job of truth-telling will send Malik and all his kind back to the bush leagues where they belong.

Large Newsprint Mill Planned In South

ANOTHER in the series of many moves to industrialize the South is noted with the announcement that a newsprint mill with an annual capacity of 100,000 tons will be built at Naheola, Ala.

The $40,000,000 plant also will produce 100,000 tons of kraft board paper each year. Rapid growth of pulpwood timber in the South has encouraged the development of the newsprint industry in the South, which not many years ago was concerned mainly with the growing of cotton, tobacco and peanuts.

Short leaf, loblolly and slash pine, all of which mature to pulpwood size in 10 to 15 years, flourish in the mill area. Crude oil will be used to produce power for the mill.

Expansion of newsprint production facilities is always welcome news to the newspaper publishers of the country. Newsprint prices have risen to record-breaking figures in the past decade, and account for much of the high operating costs of American newspapers.

The rise in prices has been due in part to the fact that many mills have discontinued the manufacture of newsprint, as has been the case in the Upper Peninsula. Increased production by the mills in the South might bring lower prices in the future.

Fall In!

By Gordon Martin

When the colonel living down the block is shouting out commands, to his regiment of soldiers as they pass reviewing stands, they are quick to do his bidding just as soon as it is heard, and of all the orders shouted, they will never miss a word. On the field the snappy colonel really has it on the ball, but at home his little daughter never seems to hear his call.

Every night when home from duty, to his porch the colonel goes, and he calls his missing daughter in a voice each neighbor knows. Then he goes inside and waits a bit but daughter doesn't come—if she hears her shouting papa, she is keeping very mum. So the colonel mounts the porch again to use his foghorn voice, and it's loud enough that when he quits, the folks around rejoice.

But he still is unsuccessful and he makes another try, and you hope that missing daughter has a passing alibi. Every night he's out there shouting but his daughter never hears, and you chuckle over how your friend, the colonel perseveres. Though the hundreds of his regiment are putty in his hands, he can never make his little daughter hear his loud commands.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — At a recent cocktail party, a tall, handsome guest was a slight drawl and polished manner, stepped up to Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine.

"We are really going to get that colleague of yours from New Hampshire," he said. "When the Republican primary is over your friend Tobey isn't going to know what hit him." And he went on to tell at some length about his plans to defeat Tobey.

Senator Smith's friend was Roger Whiteford, a top Washington attorney; while the senator to whom he referred was GOP veteran Charles Tobey, now fighting for his life in the New Hampshire primaries.

Behind this cocktail conversation was something which is axiomatic in politics—namely, "Your friends may forget you at election time, but your enemies never."

This axiom, incidentally, is having important impact on the makeup and caliber of the United States Senate.

In this particular instance, it happened that, 10 long years ago, Senator Tobey called Roger Whiteford before the Senate interstate commerce committee and subjected him to a grueling cross-examination regarding payoffs made by the giant Radio Corporation of America to call off an anti-trust case against RCA, the National Broadcasting company and affiliates.

HOOVER SAYS "NO"

Whiteford was then a Washington attorney for the Radio Corporation, and thanks to Senator Tobey's grueling cross-examination, it was disclosed that RCA had hired GOP Sen. George Moses of New Hampshire to squelch the case. But Herbert Hoover, then president, flatly refused to favor the Radio Corporation, and so did William D. Mitchell, his attorney general.

Whereupon the Radio Corporation hired Sen. Dan Hastings of Delaware, a member of the executive committee of the Republican national committee, who was paid a fee of $7,500, of which, according to the testimony, $2,500 was passed on to the clerk of the U. S. district court in Wilmington, Del. That fived the anti-trust case.

The clerk induced Judge John P. Nields, appointed to the bench through Senator Hastings, to postpone the anti-trust case, following which the justice department finally let RCA off with a consent decree.

The evidence was truly shocking. It showed that one of the nation's most influential corporations had resorted to political fixing and bribery to get an anti-trust case called off. And had it not been for the persistent sleuthing of Senator Tobey, the facts probably would still be buried.

Now, 10 years later, it appears from Roger Whiteford's conversation with Senator Smith that the chickens hatched by Senator Tobey's fearless perseverance are coming home to roost. For the opposition against him in the New Hampshire primary is such that he may lose.

SIMILAR BATTLE IN UTAH

Tobey's opposition is similar to that which has lined up against other courageous senators this year. In Utah, for instance, the National Association of Manufacturers has helped nominate its ex-president in opposition to Sen. Elbert Thomas, and may defeat him. Thomas, as chairman of the Senate labor committee, drafted the repeal of the Taft-Hartley act and went all out for labor. Now big business is retaliating against an enemy while labor is slow in going to bat for a friend.

Similar forces were lined up against Senators Claude Pepper in Florida and Frank Graham in North Carolina—two men who had the courage to fight for the Negro and for labor. And whether you agree with either of these senators, even their enemies have to admit that it takes courage to champion the Negro in Florida and North Carolina. Both senators were defeated in this year's primaries.

New Hampshire's Tobey now appears to be next on the list. And again, whether you agree with Tobey or not, his enemies also have to admit that he has courage.

READERS' CORNER

Palmer: The small doilies on the arms and back of upholstered chairs are called antimacassars. Why? And how is the word pronounced?—Mrs. E. B.

A. Before the turn of the century it was the custom for the fashionable young man to wear his hair rather long and dressed with Macassar hair oil. Housewives, in dismay at the soiling of their nice chairs by the goo, began to place doilies on their chairs to protect them—anti—"opposed to; preventive," plus Macassar (oil). The word is pronounced: AN-tee-muh-KASS-er.

Lame Deer: An article speaks of a "Hymnary." Isn't the correct word hymnal?—Mrs. R. P.

A. Hymnary, "a hymnal," is a quite proper word, but it rarely occurs in modern English. Another form is spelled "hymnarium."

Little Rock: The word habitude—will you please explain and pronounce it?—A. K. D. A. The word is French and means "a frequent use of a place," as a habit of night clubs. The French pronunciation is: a-bee-TWAY. The English is: huh-BICH-oo-ay, the second syllable rhyming with "rich."

Los Angeles: I am amazed that you should O. K. "ad-ver-TISE-ment." This Dogpatch pronunciation is used by the kind people who have to use their lips while reading. The only correct pronunciation is, of course, ad-VER-tize-ment.—John Maass.

A. Now, now, John!

I suggest you look into a few dictionaries before jumping to the erroneous conclusion that ad-ver-TISE-ment is "Dogpatch." You will find that it is given full sanction by Webster's New International and Webster's New Collegiate as "especially U. S."

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(NEA)—A tall and haughty man with the polish of old-school diplomacy moved into the center of the stage at the United Nations Security Council this month.

Already something of a hero to the public who have watched, listened or read about his performance in the UN's crucial days since the Korean war began, Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb was taking over from a man who all through August seemed bent on becoming the villain of Lake Success.

Sir Gladwyn, along with the United States' Warren Austin and other delegates in supporting roles, had kept Russia's Jacob Malik from creating complete havoc as council president, although nobody could have kept him from being the villain he wanted to be.

A career man in the British Foreign Office for 26 years, Sir Gladwyn has had a finger in many big diplomatic pies, mostly as a consultant, although he served briefly in 1946, as secretary general to the United Nations organization he helped create.

Americans—and the rest of the world public, too—suddenly discovered Jebb at about the same time they were re-discovering the UN as something important to watch.

He had hardly sat down as successor to Sir Alexander Cadogan as chief British delegate when he touched off some fireworks by Egypt's Mohamed Fawzi Bey, whom he chided for abstaining to vote for UN support of the South Koreans. His cool rebuttal quickly soothed the delegate from Cairo.

Since then, his Oxford accents around the oval council table and in the rambling halls of the UN's temporary home have won him respect as the council's most astute—and polished—diplomat.

The phrases, however, have not soothed Russia's Malik, whom Sir Gladwyn has stalked, verbally, with the same persistence he stalks stag back in the English countryside.

His initial broadside at Malik's

cries of U. S. aggression in Korea reddened the face of the thick-skinned Russian. "The queer, upside-down language" of Soviet propaganda, Sir Gladwyn said, makes it seem as if we are "living in a rather nightmare Alice-in-Wonderland world."

Malik winced again at Jebb's observation that Russian propaganda is "so obviously absurd that it is hard to think it can be swallowed even by the automatons who listen to the Moscow radio."

Even on Malik's last day with the gavel, Jebb gave him no peace, bowing the Russian out of office with these words:

"For the representative of a country which maintains millions of its own compatriots in slave labor camps in unspeakable conditions . . . to denounce other governments for alleged misdeeds as regards political prisoners is just about as nauseating per battalion, per regiment, per division and so on—is the ideal structure of the army. It doesn't mean that all this is the actual setup now. The army doesn't have enough men to have perfect strength all along the line.

In reading this you may note that the total army is 596,000, but we have only 10 divisions with a maximum total strength of only 180,000 men. So you may wonder where the rest of the 596,000 are.

The army has far more men than show in divisions. For example, the Pentagon building here is loaded with army men, all doing special work for the army, needed to run the whole show.

These include staffs to handle money, personnel, military police, weapons, trucks and transportation, supplies, communications, chemical warfare, and so on.

But the story wouldn't be complete without this explanation: the theory behind the army structure goes like this:

When foot soldiers, the infantry, advance toward the enemy, they must be supported by men behind them with heavier weapons, shooting over their heads to soften or wipe out the foe.

This set-up starts down with the smallest unit—the squad, which, in addition to its riflemen, has several men handling a Browning automatic gun—and it goes on up the line:

A platoon has a machine gun and a couple of bazookas, a company has mortars and recoilless rifles; and so on up to a division which has tanks and field guns. This is just a part of what the well-equipped division should have: 7,474 small rifles (carbines), 6,913 rifles, 557 bazookas, 124 mortars 900 machine guns.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE WOMAN'S PLACE — It has been said that a woman's place is in the home, in the arts, in medicine, in nursing, in the nursery and in the barn milking cows.

Fact is, men have a hard time making up their minds just where a woman's place is for any length of time.

Now the bright boys in the Michigan Safety Commission have come up with the proposal that it is a woman's responsibility to help discourage reckless driving.

And they know just how she is to go about reforming the driving habits of the American male, which we will tell you about in the next paragraph.

UNDER CONTROL—The plan, as announced by the State Safety Commission, has an unnamed spokesman saying:

"If the most popular girls in our town would insist on safe driving—refuse to date the 'hot-rodders'—I think we would see a lot less reckless driving on our streets by our young people."

"Never underestimate the power of a woman! The teaching and the preaching will have more lasting effect if the girls will back it up by insisting on a safe driver in any car in which they ride."

WHAT THEY THINK—The above may sound all right to the men in the State Safety Commission—but what do "the most popular girls in our town" think of it?

Do the girls who have dates, who are popular in the popular sense of the word, want to clamp down on reckless driving?

Or are they willing to risk their pretty necks with any boy who has a car and the money to buy gasoline?

Only the girls themselves can answer those questions and we'd like to hear from them on the subject. After all, a woman should have some say in the matter.

THERE IS DANGER—Parents with any degree of concern for the safety of their teen-age children realize that reckless drivers are a possible cause of death and injury to themselves and others.

They know that when their son or daughter goes out for an evening in the family car, or with some young friends, they will spend worried hours until they are safely home again.

And they know that among the "young crowd" there are drivers—both boys and girls—who are reckless, irresponsible, dangerous.

FACTS PROVE IT — Drivers under 25 years of age are having more than their share of traffic accidents, according to National Safety Council statistics.

In New York state alone, for example, drivers between the ages of 18 and 24 account for only 13 per cent of the drivers on the road—but that 13 per cent was involved in 27 per cent of all the fatal traffic accidents and about 22 per cent of the non-fatal accidents.

Thus it is shown that drivers in this age group are having about 50 per cent more accidents than they might be expected to have.

CAUSE AND CURES—Young drivers have been called reckless, smart aleck, irresponsible, cocky.

Immature might be a better word and more adequately descriptive. Young folks brought up on a diet of reckless driving as portrayed in exciting movies, brake-screaming radio thrillers, and all too often the horrible example of their parents, are ripe for an adventure of "thrills, chills and spills" when they get behind the wheel.

Too many youngsters consider an automobile a plaything, the highway a speedway, every stop sign and corner a challenge, traffic laws made for "old folks," and police someone to evade.

Parents have the first obligation: 1—To teach their children to observe laws; 2—To properly train them in handling a car.

Why put the responsibility on "the most popular girls in town?"

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba — Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion who was scheduled to referee a boxing card at the Upper Peninsula state fair here September 11, yesterday wired fair board managers his regrets over the infantile paralysis epidemic in the peninsula and expressed the hope that it will soon be over. The fair was cancelled because of the widespread epidemic.

Escanaba—Albert (Lou) Villemur, well known Escanaba sportsman, has returned to his first love, the bicycle. He's going back to the repairing of two wheeled vehicles and so is once again in the business that he started here 15 years ago. "Lou" had a bicycle and sport shop on the corner of Lexington and 14th streets that was destroyed by fire in January 1923. That fire was one of the most spectacular ever witnessed in the city. Intense cold weather hampered the efforts of firemen until the fire got a runaway start and then as the flames reached the sporting goods stock, explosions of hundreds of shotgun and rifle shells added to the excitement.

20 YEARS AGO

Geneva—Aristide Briand's plan for an European federation went definitely into the state of public discussion today following upon the first session of the League of Nations council.

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. August Ohman returned Saturday from an extended visit with relatives at Davenport and Mount Vernon, Iowa.

Escanaba—Rev. Oscar R. Palm, pastor of the Swedish Methodist church of Escanaba for the last 13 years, was appointed by the Northwestern conference held in Chicago last week to take charge of the Lafayette-Clear Lake pastorate in Minnesota. He will deliver his farewell sermon to his congregation next Sunday. He will be succeeded here the following week by Rev. K. J. Hammar, now of Norway.

Senator Tobey Has Hard Fight

Primary Is Watched In New Hampshire

By MARQUIS CHILDS
WASHINGTON — Although it has received little national attention, one of the most important primary campaigns in the country is coming to a close in New Hampshire. It is important above all because of the powerful moneyed interests from outside the state seeking to decide the outcome.

CHILDS

Ranked against homespun Senator Charles Tobey are the enemies he has made by his courage and forthrightness in standing up against some of the cruder attempts at plunder in Washington. Among these enemies are:

John L. Lewis, boss of the United Mine Workers, who is reported to have put a large sum into the campaign against Tobey. The Nationalist China lobby, directed by Alfred Kohlberg, wealthy Chinese importer of New York City.

Edwin W. Pauley, fabulously rich oilman and friend of President Truman, whose appointment as Under Secretary of the Navy Tobey helped to block.

Money Pouring In
Various assorted interests that have used the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to bail out bankrupt private corporations that in turn rewarded RFC officials with lucrative jobs.

A really thorough Senate investigation, with the power of subpoena and the services of a first rate investigator, could perhaps find out where the money is coming from. But there can be no doubt that it is pouring in. Reports from New Hampshire tell of free dinners offered by Tobey's opposition in every township.

Tobey's opponent is J. Wesley Powell, a World War II veteran who was administrative assistant to Styles Bridges, New Hampshire's senior senator. Actually, in spite of all his disclaimers, Bridges is the real opponent. He would control Powell's vote in the Senate, and New Hampshire would become his personal satrapy—a factor that is said to weigh in Tobey's favor.

Bridges' career is a fascinating study in the politics of power. He was at one time an associate of the late John G. Winant, who was an able and progressive governor of New Hampshire. Bridges was appointed as a liberal member of the state public service commission.

In recent years he has been aligned more and more closely with interests that wield great power in Washington. Through a Senate inquiry came the revelation that Bridges was being paid at the rate of $35,000 a year, in addition to his Senate salary, for serving as one of the three trustees of the United Mine Workers' welfare fund.

Lewis exerts absolute control over this fund of millions upon millions of dollars, just as he does over the treasury of the UMW. As in the past, he dictates how campaign contributions are to be made. After the Senate inquiry, Bridges resigned as a director of the welfare fund.

Kohlberg Contributed
When Bridges was running for re-election in 1948 at least $2,000 was contributed to his campaign by Kohlberg. A leading Bridges' ally in the current campaign is William Loeb who controls New Hampshire's leading newspaper, the Manchester Morning Union. Loeb is also head of the American China Policy association which was formed by Kohlberg.

Loeb has sought in every way to discredit Tobey. The New Hampshire senator ran a newspaper ad containing statements by various Republican senators in friendly letters. The newspaper wired to each one of the senators asking whether they had intended to "endorse" Tobey.

They wired back varying replies indicating they had not intended their statements as specific endorsements. Such a wire from Senator Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts was headlined, "Saltonstall repudiates Tobey."

Bridges is, of course, a power in the Senate. He is ranking Republican member of the appropriations committee and, Republican control of Congress would put him in the driver's seat. Some weeks ago the White House summoned him for a conference on the Korean war and foreign policy, with the intimation he would become the alternate to Senator Arthur Vandenberg, long ill, in the bi-partisan approach.

New Hampshire, with its nickname of the granite state, has been known for its sturdy independence. In view of this it is surprising to learn that Tobey's backers are deeply concerned. But in view of the general trend that appears to work against the "ins" and in behalf of the "outs", coupled with the preoccupation of many voters with other affairs, there may be good reason for their concern over the possible loss of a valuable public servant.

Bureau of Mines Contract Awarded On Cuyuna Range

Award of a contract for a minimum of $14,000 to the Atkins-Walker Company of Duluth, Minn., for drilling into manganese-bearing iron ore on the Cuyuna Range on the boundary between Crow Wing and Aitkin Counties, Minn., was announced today by Paul Zinner, Regional Director of the United States Bureau of Mines, Region V, at Minneapolis, Minn.

Drilling will begin soon in an area on the eastern end of the main workings of the Cuyuna Range, where the ore contains from 1 to 15 per cent manganese. Mr. Zinner stated. Reserves in this area, eight miles north of Aitkin, will be determined.

Manganese from this ore might be used in making steel, which takes about 13 pounds of manganese to every ton of finished product, Mr. Zinner stated. These reserves could help offset the tremendous dependence upon foreign manganese imports, he added. The United States normally produces only about 10 per cent of its manganese requirements.

Schools Cannot Replace Churches, U. of M. Dean Says

ANN ARBOR—It is not possible to develop a school program of religious instruction that would be acceptable to all church groups, in the opinion of Dean J. B. Edmondson of the School of Education at the University of Michigan.

"If it were possible to construct a common core of religious teachings it should be possible to reduce the number of different church groups from approximately 300 to a very small number," said Dean Edmondson. "It appears, however, that the number of sectarian groups is growing in the United States rather than decreasing."

According to the dean, the absence of formal religious instruction in public schools must not be interpreted as meaning that the schools do not emphasize moral training.

He pointed out that the public schools have always emphasized character education and civic training because it is impossible to have a good school unless emphasis is placed on honesty, helpfulness, kindness and respect for the rights of others.

"In pioneer days the Bible was used as a textbook in many schools, in part because other textbooks were not readily available. When the number of religious groups increased and sectarian conflicts developed, most of the pioneer communities found it inadvisable to provide religious instruction in the public schools," he explained.

Escanaban Fined For Using Foreign Plates On Truck

Paul Porteus, 219 South 15th street, was fined $10 and court costs in justice court today for using Wisconsin license plates on a truck here.

The Escanaban, who delivers bread, was apprehended on complaint of E. A. Hartzel of Menominee, investigator for the license division of the department of state.

Minimum fine and costs was assessed because Porteus had just purchased a Michigan license to use on his truck, Judge Henry Ranguette said this morning.

Truman Says He Will Not Sign Bill To Ban Reds

ate and House bills, would: Require the registration of Communist political and front organizations; bar Communists from federal jobs and getting passports; put more teeth in laws dealing with sabotage and espionage, and pave the way for barring or deporting aliens considered to be subversive.

Mr. Truman had asked Congress only for more powers to deal with espionage agents and saboteurs. He has assailed other features of the McCarran bill as unnecessary, ineffective and likely to jeopardize the rights of individual citizens.

But efforts to find someone qualified and willing to serve as a full time civilian defense director have not so far been successful. Civilian defense cannot, however, wait while we look for a man and return to the legislature for money to pay him. The important thing is to move on this program and move fast."

Williams said he plans to sign the four war preparedness bills today.

May Spoil Vacation
The president's statement, coming at a time when lawmakers are pressing to get their work done and go home by Sept. 16, may have an important bearing on the kind of congressional vacation to be taken.

If Congress adjourns, Mr. Truman could scuttle the bill by failing to sign it within 10 days after passage. This would be a pocket veto.

But if Congress decided to go on a three-day recess basis, then the president would either have to sign or tell Congress he was vetoing it and why. Otherwise the bill would automatically become a law within 10 days after passage.

Senate Republican leader Wherry of Nebraska said if a pocket veto was threatened, then "it would behoove those who support this bill to keep the Senate in session and try to pass it over his veto." Wherry is backing the bill.

Atlanta, Ga., Masonic Temple Wrecked By Million Dollar Fire

ATLANTA—(P)—A million dollar fire yesterday gutted the six-story Masonic Temple here, a landmark for almost half a century on downtown Peachtree street.

The flames, their origin undetermined, broke out even as a renovating crew worked to install a fire sprinkler system. A high wind fanned the blaze, which began on the top story of the masonry and steel structure. A chill rain had no effect on the flames.

It was the city's worst fire since 119 persons lost their lives when the Winecoff hotel burned on Dec. 7, 1946. No lives were lost this time, and only one person—a fireman—was injured.

The entire stock of a shoe store and two dress shops on the street floor were lost.

LANSING—(P)—The State Selective Service headquarters received federal orders today to call 3,250 Michigan men for the armed services during November.

This is Michigan's quota for the nationwide call of 70,000 which was launched several days ago. The state's November call represents an increase of 878 men over the October call.

The draft headquarters said that Michigan draft boards will be ordered to call up 3,900 men, which includes an overall of 650 men to take care of last minute postponements and other emergencies.

Draftees now are being forwarded to the armed services at the rate of about 145 a day, the state headquarters said.

WASHINGTON—(P)—Labor union political leaders are having a private huddle tonight with President Truman at a downtown hotel (Statler).

Presidential secretary Charles G. Ross described the occasion as a round table dinner meeting with about 50 leaders of the AFL's Labor League for political education and the CIO's Political Action Committee.

Strategy in the congressional campaign is expected to be the major topic discussed. The two labor political groups are generally supporting Democratic candidates. Ross said the meeting will be closed.

National Air Guard Groups Will Be Called To Active Duty Soon

WASHINGTON—(P)—Five national air guard groups—comprising 5,000 to 7,500 men and about 350 planes—soon will be called to active duty.

The air force yesterday set this first call-up of air guard units for the near future. It declined to identify the units.

Once the units are placed on active duty, unit members will be given 30 days in which to report. There will be four fighter bomber groups and one tactical reconnaissance group. They are equipped with F-47 thunderbolts and F-51 Mustang fighters and F-34 jet planes.

The air force said the five units will be assigned primarily for close support of ground troops. Altogether the national air guard has 84 squadrons, 72 of them listed as fighter squadrons.

Farmers Union Denies It's Red

WASHINGTON—(P)—An assertion by Senator Bridges (R-NH) that Communists appear to have taken over the Farmers Union—which the farm organization promptly denied—brought in its wake today an extra-fat congressional record.

A battery of 36 linotype machines was set to work last night to put in type the reply of just one man, Senator Langer (R-ND). Bridges told the Senate yesterday that Communists often have boasted that they had been successful in their efforts to take over the organization, and he added:

"The Farmers Union so consistently espouses Communist causes, parrots Communist propaganda and refuses to denounce Communists or their activities as to preclude the possibility of accident or coincidence."

In Washington, the organization issued a statement calling Bridges' charges "a lie" and saying "it is significant that the smear was mouthed from the immunity of the Senate floor." Senators cannot be sued for anything they say on the floor.

Homes In Small Towns Best Buy

Big Cities Might Be Bombed, Says Babson

NEW BOSTON, N. H.—Many people ask me what I think of the present housing boom, how long it will last and whether it is wise to buy or build new homes now. Briefly, these are my conclusions. During the first seven months of 1950, nearly 800,000 new non-farm dwellings were started in the United States. In July a new monthly record of 144,000 units was chalked up. What is the reason for this unprecedented high volume of new home construction? The answer can be summed up in just two words: easy credit. Of course, there are other factors, but it is this ready availability of mortgage loans guaranteed by the government which has created and sustained the housing boom.

What Is Wrong?

Government pump-priming is not bad in itself. In a complicated and highly industrialized economy such as ours, it may become a necessary device in the promotion of our national interest. However, I am opposed to the abuses of pump-priming. The powerful Housing Agency is fostering today's dangerous housing boom. Through its easy credit terms, it is encouraging individuals to discard the principles of industry, thrift and resourcefulness which have made our nation great.

Easy mortgage loans are of dubious value if you take a long range viewpoint. They can prove disastrous following times like these when wages and prices are on an artificially high basis. I am greatly disturbed when I see young people getting involved in operations and commitments that can be justified only if these extremely favorable business conditions should persist. Some will lose the new homes which they so proudly and so easily acquired. Others will be able to keep them only at the price of difficulties due to expecting something for nothing.

Buy Larger Houses

Another aspect of the housing situation which distresses me is the size of the majority of the new houses now being built. In their zeal to keep costs at or near $10,000 per unit, builders seem to have concentrated on too small houses, many of which have only four rooms. Certainly these better are not very practical for family living in the American tradition. Nor will they have a very good resale value.

G. I.'s and others, lured by the bait of no, or at best a small, down payment and the promise of easy mortgage terms, should take time to think of these purchases in terms of future needs and future values. Perhaps if they were required to proffer a substantial down payment, as were their fathers, they would be more

Sourpuss Ruark Flops In Personality Test

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—It pains me to admit it, but I guess I am a sort of surly churl—a social monster with the parlor department of old Jake Malik, the Russian charm boy. This must be true because some people named Samuel and Esther Kling have come up with a questionnaire to determine whether you are a nice guy or a heel, and I flunked it cold. F'rinstance:

RUARK

Q: Are you usually cheerful and courteous? A: No. You are cheerful today? As for courtesy, try a short trip in a subway and watch the milk of discerning and more practical. What Should We Expect?

A sharp decline from the present peak activity in home building now appears imminent, owing to the Korean trouble. However, I believe that the accumulation of deferred housing demand would have been satisfied before long anyway. Recent tightening of federal housing credit and a very material increase in government stockpiling of strategic materials should hasten the return to a more normal market in new home construction to provide for our expanding population.

It is probable that the present scarcity of housing in our larger cities may suddenly turn into a surplus. The day may not be far off when it will be difficult to sell some of these city units at any price because of the possibility of their being bombed and because of high city taxes and living costs. Also remember that today there is a home to every 4.1 persons; while the previous saturation point came in 1930 when the people were satisfied with one home for each 4.4 of population!

Don't Overlook Small Cities

I would not buy a house today in any of the larger cities of the United States unless it was essential that I live within the limits of one of them. Big city property valuations are too vulnerable. Yet, I would not hesitate to build or buy a house for my family's use with a 30 per cent down payment in the better sections of most small American communities. I am convinced that the population trend away from the larger cities will continue, thus decreasing big city real estate values.

It also may be that an older type, well-built house in the best sections of these smaller cities is a better buy than a new house in the present crazy market. You may pay more for such a house than it originally cost to build, but you will still be getting it for about half of what it would cost to build today.

human kindness evaporate. Git outta my way, Y' bum, or I'll grind ya into the dust.

Q: Are you generally sympathetic with people? A: What for? Don't tell me your troubles. I'm loaded with my own.

Q: Do you usually see the humorous side of things? A: Sure. You don't laugh, you got to cut your throat. Everything is funny. Funny old A-bomb. Funny old taxes. Funny old Russia. Sidesplitting old Harry T. Ha. Ha. I'm killing myself with mirth.

Q: Are you generally fair and free from envy and jealousy? A: Did you ever meet anybody who was?

Are You Gloomy?

Q: Are you usually optimistic rather than gloomy? A: Sure. It's got to get better. How can it get worse?

Q: Do you have a generous supply of enthusiasm? Absolutely. What do you suppose I have been selling all these years in lieu of talent? I ain't pretty, got no dough, but enthusiasm I am all busted out with. Bah, rah, three cheers and one small tiger. Team, team, team! Our class won the Bible. Also the chocolate cake.

Q: Are you Democratic in your manner? A: No. I only like individuals. And if I had anything sexier than Tom Dewey to focus on, my politics would be Republican. Who can like everybody?

Q: Do you refrain from burdening other people with your troubles? A: Not baby. Baby loves to weep on sympathetic shoulders. I am the crybaby of the age. Why, only the other day, the downcastest—you wouldn't believe it—why do these things happen to me—I am being crucified.

Q: Are you generous and patient? A: Sure. Give the old lady five bucks each and every week and I ain't slugged her in a month. Patient? Let's get on with the interview.

Q: Are you usually friendly and do you smile readily? Sure. Who needs new enemies? I got enough already without creating extra ones. Smile? Certainly. It's easier than thumbing a nose. Takes less effort, I mean.

Q: Do you refrain from prying into other people's affairs? A: Are you out of your mind? How do you suppose I eat?

Q: Do you avoid imposing on or embarrassing others? A: As much as I can. I never met anybody who was eager to be imposed on, and embarrassing others will buy you nothing better than a poke in the puss. Also, I have a sweet, sunny nature and a glass chin.

Q: Do you show appreciation for the things people do for you? A: Sure. But what have you done for me lately?

Q: Do you avoid laughing at other people's mistakes or eccentricities? A: You mean I should starve to death on account of writing no column?

Q: Are you neat? A: No.

Q: Are you tolerant toward those who disagree with you? A: Anybody who disagrees with me is an ignorant, Fascist, Communist, rat, scab, dirty bum. And wrong, too.

Q: Are you more inclined to praise than criticize? A: No sir, I love that hammar. Set him up in the other alley.

Q: Do you try to help people and are you considerate of others? A: A little bit, on the first part, and not very much on the second. But dogs and children love me. Possibly because I feed both.

The Klings say that if most of these questions are answered "Yes" you are a lovely fellow. I know what I am. I am a cad.

Taft-Hartley Law Ties Labor's Hands, Says William Green

DETROIT—(AP)—The Taft-Hartley law cripples American labor in its defense efforts, says President William Green of the American Federation of Labor. "Under the law labor's hands are tied," he told the 18th annual convention of the AFL Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers.

"Unions find it difficult to recruit the trained workers needed for defense projects because of the act's prohibitions against union shop conditions."

Green added that "if American labor has anything to say about it, Communists will never trample upon us nor our freedoms."

The AFL president also said an immediate labor aim is "the defeat of reactionary congressmen"—particularly Senator Taft (R-Ohio).

Poise Assists
Graceful Exit

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

We sometimes find ourselves in spots that are difficult to escape. Often the difficulty is not a physical one, since a polite murmur usually clears the way with ease, but rather an emotional one.

It is a poised woman indeed who can, without self-consciousness, exit from a room with the eyes of a group of seated people upon her. This poise is an outgrowth of self-confidence.

Practice your best walk at all times so that you won't be thrown off balance when the spotlight of attention is unexpectedly thrust upon you.

The most graceful exit is the one which creates the least stir among late-stayers. If you can, plot your path to the door before rising, rather than progressing in jumps and starts around obstacles you hadn't counted upon.

Don't stare fixedly into the air before you, but focus your eyes—and incidentally a pleasant expression—upon some one person in the group as you leave. Usually this will be your hostess, to whom you should say goodbye in the same subdued manner in which you walk.

Although it's well to keep in mind the appearance of your retreat—avoiding jiggling hips and swaying shoulders—it's best to turn your thoughts away from the individual elements of your walk as you exit.

If you discover defects in your gait, the place for correcting them is in your own boudoir. Don't practice walking in someone else's living room.

War Wise Wives
Face New Problems

By RUTH MILLETT
"If Jim has to go to war again... This is what the wives who sat out the last war are saying to each other these days."

And in almost every case, the sentence is finished by the wife's thinking aloud that this next time she'll do things differently.

If during the last war she lived with his or her parents, this time she means to stay right under her own roof. She knows all about the complications that arise when a daughter or daughter-in-law, used to running her own home, moves herself and her children in with grandparents.

If she followed her husband from Army camp to Army camp last time, then she is saying, "I wouldn't uproot the children again. I don't believe it's worth while."

For the wife who has moved her children and family possessions to follow the army, living in makeshift lodgings and never knowing when her husband will get orders to move again, knows all too well how unsatisfactory home life is under those conditions.

Something Different This Time
If she lived alone with her children during the last war, and felt at times that the loneliness was unbearable, she is probably saying, "I believe if I have to go through it again I'll get a job."

And so it goes. Each wife has such vivid memories of the last war that she thinks that if she had to go through it all again she would do things differently.

But the truth of the matter is that there is no happy solution to the problem of a family uprooted by war. It's tough on a woman any way she tries to work it out.

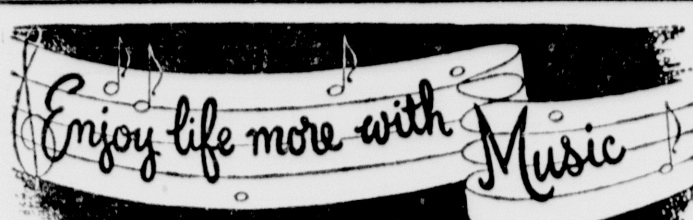

So the lessons that women think they learned during the last war won't do them much good now that they face the problems of another war. They know, perhaps

The vows were spoken before Father Sauer who was celebrating the 11 o'clock nuptial high mass at St. Peter's church September 4. Attractive bouquets of white gladioli and white glamelias and lighted altar candles were the setting for the wedding. St. Peter's choir sang the music of the mass.

Tiny beads outlined the sweetheart neckline. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to a crown of orange blossoms. She carried a colonial bouquet of white glamelias.

Sawdust Can Be Made Into Synthetic Garden Topsoil

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
CHICAGO—(AP)—Sawdust can be turned into synthetic topsoil to grow bigger, greener vegetables, Dr. Edward Farber of Washington, D. C., said today.

Chemically treated, the sawdust becomes like humus, to nourish crops, he told the American Chemical Society.

Erosion robs the nation of millions of tons of precious topsoil annually. And lumbering piles up mountains of sawdust, estimated at 60 million tons a year, for which there are no great uses. The new chemical process might help solve both problems, said Dr. Farber, of the Timber Engineering Co. Early tests with the sawdust topsoil have been promising, he said.

From 10 to 40 tons of converted sawdust were applied to an acre of soil. Seeds germinated sooner, and more of them germinated, he said.

"Leaves were bigger and greener, and the weights of produce like radishes, beets, onions, and tomatoes were greater."

The sawdust is treated with mineral acids, at temperatures well over the boiling point of water, but not hot enough to char the cellulose materials in the sawdust, he explained.

The sawdust "forms humus-like substances by loss of water and some side reactions. We need products which act like humus to improve our soils."

This is just one of the new chemical treatments being developed to make economic use of sawdust and other wood wastes from lumbering, Dr. Farber said. Present methods turn some waste wood products into turpentine, a raw material for nylon and for resins, or into sugars or feed for animals.

Vandenberg Visits Grand Rapids, Goes Right To Hospital

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — (P)—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg is starting his first visit of this year to his home city with a stay in Butterworth hospital.

Arriving at the Grand Rapids airport in a private plane, the veteran Republican senator went directly to the hospital for continuation of treatments that followed an operation some months ago.

"The doctors told me it would take a year to recover my health and strength, and they seem to have been about right in their conclusions," the senator told reporters.

Temporary offices for the senator will be opened in the Pantlind hotel by his aides within a day or so.

Accompanying Vandenberg on his trip from Washington—his first since the current session of Congress opened in January—were Dr. A. B. Smith and the senator's personal secretary, Miss Geraldine Creagan.

Prison Frees Father For Skin Grafts To Save Daughter's Life

DETROIT—(P)—If tiny Carol Wdowicki recovers from the searing burns she suffered three months ago, her family will owe a big debt of gratitude to Michigan and Iowa officials.

Through a special arrangement, her convict father was permitted to fly here from Iowa's state penitentiary at Fort Madison to give some of his skin in a grafting operation that physicians hope may save the life of five-year-old Carol.

Wdowicki, a 35-year-old ex-marine, was sentenced 25 months ago to a five-year assault term.

When Carol was burned as her dress caught fire June 9, Wdowicki's wife requested his parole, but it was refused. This week Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan intervened in the case, and officials of the Iowa prison agreed to release Wdowicki outright if his state would accept the responsibility.

The operation was performed as soon as he arrived here.

The Pilgrims did not wear the sember brown and black clothing shown in most paintings. Brilliant colors predominated in their dress.

Manistique Band Resumes Practice

The Manistique Band will resume its weekly rehearsals this coming Wednesday evening, director Ferd Gorsche has announced. Following its last concert in the summer "outdoor" series the band has been on a vacation for several weeks. A full attendance is desired at the first rehearsal, as much new music will be rehearsed in preparation for a number of indoor concerts to be given this fall and winter.

Certain members of the band, especially in the reed section, are anxious to make public the result of the annual softball game played at the band picnic on Sunday, August 27. The reed section defeated the brass in a double-header by taking the first game 9-5 and the nightcap 5-3. This marks the second year that the reed section has defeated the "power" section in softball.

Braves Ready For Trojans Under Lights Here Saturday

GLADSTONE—The football season will get under way for Gladstone high school Saturday night when Coach Don Pfothenauer fields his 1950 gridiron eleven against the St. Joseph Parochials under the lights at Escanaba.

The game is scheduled for 8 o'clock at Memorial Field. Although being played in Escanaba, it is a "home" game for the Braves.

TICKET SALE

Tickets for the opening game are available at the office of Supt. Wallace Cameron at the junior high school. They are general admission tickets as no seats are being reserved for this game.

Although there will be but four regulars from last year's potent aggregation present this fall, the local mentor will have a team which has a line with both heft and experience and a backfield which while not too big will be

Barks To Play At Stephenson

Ben Kleiman Is Pitching Choice

Ben Kleiman is the pitching choice of Manager Leo Knaut of Bark River in the second playoff game of the Tri-County league at Stephenson Sunday afternoon.

Wally Flath will play second base, filling in for John Hansen who has left for Ferris Institute, Big Rapids, Hunte Kleiman will be at first base, Bob L'Houillier at shortstop and Babe Kleiman at third base. Ed Mahne will do the catching.

The outfield will comprise Louis Derocher, George LaBrasse and Lloyd Olson.

The game will be at 2:00 Stephenson time, which is 3:00 o'clock Bark River time.

Bark River defeated Stephenson in the opener of the three game series at Bark River last week, 4-2, and if the Barks can take this one, they will have the championship sewed up.

Trippi and Walker Meet In Exhibition

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—(AP)—Charlie Trippi and Don Walker, two unmatched greats of college gridiron, meet for the first time in a pro exhibition game tomorrow.

Trippi is in the backfield of the Chicago Cardinals. Walker, former SMU hero, plays with the Detroit Lions. He wound up his college career last year, Trippi was a University of Georgia standout. Both he and Walker are brilliant passers and runners.

Their battle and the duels of other individual stars, among them possibly Leon Hart of Notre Dame, may overshadow the team battle.

Hart has been on the injured list, but Lions Coach Bob McMillin said the giant end will play, if at all possible.

Tri-Club Golf Tourney Opens Here Tomorrow

Eskymos Open Football Season Against Blue Devils Saturday

The Escanaba Eskymos will meet the Sault Ste. Marie Blue Devils at the Escanaba athletic field tomorrow afternoon in the opening football game of the season. The dedication of the new stadium will also be a feature of the opening game and the dedication ceremony will begin promptly at two o'clock. Kickoff time will be approximately 2:15 o'clock.

Dr. Fred Jarm, president of the Escanaba board of education, will give a short dedication speech and other speakers will be Coach Harry Monson of Iron River, former Eskymo athletic star and captain of the 1934 Eskymos, representing all the Escanaba football men, and Bob St. Martin, of the 1950 Escanaba team, who is game captain for the Eskymos against the Blue Devils. Supt. John A. Lemmer will be the master of ceremonies.

Heavy Line, Light Backs

Saturday's game with the Blue Devils should provide the answer to a question that Eskymo fans have been asking for weeks. What have the Eskymos got this season?

Coach Rouman's line shapes up as one of the heaviest fielded by the Eskymos in years. From end to end, the line averages nearly 190 pounds. The backfield, however, is comparatively light but the ball toters have shown plenty of speed and considerable deception in practice drills.

The Eskymos will use both a T-formation and a single wing formation in offensive thrusts against the Blue Devils. The Soo team specializes in the split-T, used so effectively by Oklahoma.

The coach is inexperienced and Coach Rouman anticipates that the team will produce some weaknesses but he is confident that on the whole the team will give a good account of itself against the Blue Devils, who last week defeated the Munising Mustangs, 6-0.

Officials for the game will be Eddie Chambers, Tim Barry and Miles Finnegan.

Scrimmage For Spartan Squad

Thrower Sharp in MSC Workout

By STAN BRADSHAW

EAST LANSING—(AP)—Little Willie Thrower is going to be a hard man to keep off the Michigan State college football team.

That much seemed evident yesterday as Coach Biggie Munn tossed an unusual hour and quarter long scrimmage at his 66-man squad.

Such sessions usually wait until the end of the first week, or even into the second, but this was only the second day of practice for the Spartans.

Munn is hustling the team along because State opens its 1950 season here Sept. 23 against Oregon State. That's only 13 more practice days away.

Thrower, 170-pound sophomore from New Kensington, Pa., made his bid for a starting berth at halfback in the big try-out session.

Billed primarily as a passer, he got away for three good 15 to 20 yard runs against a put-together line.

And his passing, to sure-fingered ends Bob Carey and Hank Minarik, was right on the button.

Fight For Jobs

The big fight for backfield jobs, however, appears to be shaping up between the veterans Sonny Grandelius, of Muskegon, and Leroy Crane, team captain from Mt. Pleasant.

Crane, who saw mostly defensive action last year, made his bid for the offensive fullback spot with an 18-yard run first crack in the scrimmage. Then Grandelius, who could go to halfback, came along with an equally good rush.

Other sizeable gains also were turned in by newcomers Don McLaughlin, a bulging type runner, Detroit Dick Panin and Wayne Benson. Letterman Bob Ciolek at the right halfback spot.

Although Munn generally rotated both his backfields and his lines, Bill Carey turned up most

Stagg Cooks Up Some New Plays

SELINGSGROOVE, Pa.—(AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, as spry and chipper at 83 as ever, has cooked up a batch of new plays to surprise his opponents in his 61st year as a college football coach.

"I can't tell you what they are or they wouldn't be a surprise," he said. "But Mrs. Stagg and I have worked on new plays all winter."

Football coaching is a family affair at Susquehanna university in this central Pennsylvania college town. Amos Alonzo, Jr., is the head coach with his parents serving as his chief assistants.

The elder Stagg is listed as advisory coach but he makes a full time job of it during the fall months. He rarely misses a practice session.

Mrs. Stagg, 86, is the team's official charter of plays and she helps more than a little with advice. She rarely misses a practice session.

Last year the Stagg-coached Susquehanna crusaders won only a single game. But things are looking brighter this year.

Simmons Leaving For Army Training

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—If Curt Simmons does any more pitching this year it'll probably be for Uncle Sam's army.

The Philadelphia Phillies' ace southpaw will leave Sunday along with his detachment of the 28th Infantry division for Camp Atterbury, Ind. The division was inducted into federal service last Tuesday.

Simmons leaves for the service with a record of 17 victories and eight defeats.

He was in the quarterback position, he saw limited action at end last year, but is being given a chance as signal caller.

No injuries were reported as a result of the scrimmage, although Hallback Al Dorow complained of a loosened tooth.

The squad appeared to stand up well under the hot, bruising work, but should improve as practice continues.

Coach Ray Elliot of Illinois ordered punting drills and defensive work. Herb Neathery, a halfback, stood out in both assignments.

There was good news at Northwestern. Chuck Hasmann, senior end from Erie, Pa., returned to the lineup after a year's absence because of an ailing back. Nick Chocron (CQ), junior end from Gary, Ind., became the first casualty. He was unable to work because of a twisted knee, suffered in practice yesterday.

At Notre Dame, Bill Flynn, Gary, Ind., senior tackle was given special attention by assistant coach Bob McBride. He was a reserve end last fall.

Badgers Show Much Promise

Minnesota Works On Passes, Punts

CHICAGO—(AP)—Wisconsin's football coach, Ivy Williamson, is optimistic about his team's early showing, but plans to put it to the test with a scrimmage tomorrow.

Williamson said "we're having pretty good workouts and are traveling at a much faster pace than in 1949. We're coming along all right."

Minnesota worked on passing and punting, interspersed with occasional jogs around the field. Coach Bernie Bierman is seeking a replacement for Billy Bye and Dick Lawrence, last year's star kickers.

The fullback department was augmented with the appearance of Chicago's Mike Ryan, a promising freshman who dropped out of school last spring.

Ohio State got a dose of pass defense drills. The Buckeyes lost the services temporarily of end Dick Anderson, Portsmouth, O. Anderson, who suffered a shoulder separation in yesterday's workouts, will be out at least two weeks.

Purdue had its first contact work in the form of blocking practice. Neil Schmidt was at the right halfback spot vacated by Bill Slowron, who signed this week with the New York Yankees baseball team.

At Indiana, Lou D'Achille, sophomore quarterback, did most of the throwing as end Cliff Anderson was turned loose in a brilliant demonstration of pass reception. Anderson set a western conference record for total catches last year.

Fred Ruck moved into the No. 1 quarterback and passing position at Iowa, directing a unit including Bill Reichardt and Jerry Fiske at halfbacks and Mike Riley at fullback. Passing was the main order of the day.

Millers Coasting To A. A. Pennant

(By The Associated Press)

Minneapolis coasted to within two games of the American Association pennant last night by routing last place Kansas City 7-0 on Kirby Higbee's three-hit pitching.

The Millers, with four remaining games, lead by three and a half over runnerup Indianapolis. Higbee, veteran righthander, retired the side in order in seven of the nine innings. Bert Haas hit his 23rd home run and Johnny Kropf got his 21st.

Dom Dallessandro swatted his 12th homer as the Indians defeated Toledo No. 5. Toledo's lone run came in the fifth when Bill Barnacle homered.

Columbus beat fifth place Louisville 4-1. St. Paul's Jim Romano shut out Milwaukee, 10-0.

Second Playoff Game Sunday

Nahma is confident it will nail down the Bay de Noc league pennant Sunday in the second game of the playoff series, to be played at Nahma.

It's do or die for Cooks, which sustained an embarrassing 16-5 shellacking at the hands of Nahma last Sunday.

Nahma produced terrific power at the plate in the opening game last week and Manager Vic Tripp reports his lads are convinced that they can end the series with successive victories.

The league commissioner, Bud Gibbs, will be on hand to award the trophy to Nahma if the Sawmill Towners can win the Sunday game. A trophy to the most popular player in the league will also be awarded.

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK—(AP)—It's all in the records, but, gosh, we can't tell what they mean. . . Here, you take a look at that American league pennant race. . . Next week the eastern clubs of the AL start a ten-day western swing which could settle the whole argument. . . On three previous western expeditions, the Yankees bowled over Cleveland's Indians, who are hot-tent in their big home park, but couldn't do a thing in Detroit. . . The Red Sox, conversely, took their thumpings in Cleveland but managed to escape from the Tigers' lair with almost an even break. . . Naturally, they've all made out pretty well with only a few minor mishaps against the second division clubs. . . A little more consistency would help in figuring out what they're likely to do. . . Of course, the Phillies and Dodgers will be at home to the National league's western clubs at the same time, but that doesn't look too troublesome since the Cards folded. . . If anything happens to them, it will be their own fault.

Beast Gags Of The Season

Andy Mooradian, who once trained dogs in the army and now trains halfbacks for the U. of New Hampshire, claims: "It just takes halfbacks a little longer to get the idea." . . Head Coach Chief Boston was inclined to agree with him after his squad visited an animal farm for some "gag" publicity photos. . . An elephant trainer attempted to teach one of the pachyderms (elephants, that is, not tacks) to pick up a football and hand it off. . . On the second attempt, the handoff was perfect. . . "My gosh," yelled the Chief, "in six weeks of spring practice I couldn't teach one of my quarterbacks to do that."

One-Minute Sports Page

If they sold all the tickets printed for the Willie Pep-Sandy Saddler scrap, the gate would run well over $200,000. . . Story relayed from the south is that the "big" football schools of the Southern Conference are threatening to break away and form a league of their own. . . The giants of the north still are just that. Only four of 33 Minnesota linemen are less than six feet tall and they keep going up until they reach soph tackle Harry Keston, 6-6½ and 250 pounds. . . With Tennessee picked as the No. 1 Southeastern Conference mid team in Gen. Bob Neyland's 24th season, Tom Siler's new book, "Taru The Years With The Volunteers" is timely as well as being darn good reading. . . Don White, star Oregon State U. pitcher last spring, racked up 12 consecutive victories for the Coquille, Ore., semi-pro team during the summer.

Tigers In First Spot After 13-13 Thriller With Cleveland Tribe

By CHARLES C. CAIN

DETROIT — (AP)—A never-say-die bunch of Detroit Tigers went atop the American league pennant scramble again today after staging a thrilling uphill battle yesterday to tie Cleveland's Indians 13-13 in a 10-inning slugfest.

The Detroiters had to stage their most sensational comeback of the year to grab the tie which moved them two percentage points out in front of the New York Yankees, who bowed to the Red Sox again.

Hoot Evers

The Detroiters called on the veteran Paul Dizzy Trout (11-4) to protect the lead as they moved to Chicago to open a four game series against the White Sox tonight. Left-hander Bob Cain (7-10), who has had pretty good luck against the top contenders, drew the White Sox pitching assignment.

Yesterday's three-hour, 26-minute marathon left 26,617 Briggs stadium fans exhausted but happy after one of the most dramatic games in Tiger history.

Hoot Is the Hero
Manager Red Rolfe commented "I've never seen a ball club show more courage than my Tigers did today."

Honors for the most stout-hearted performance went to Hoot Evers.

This is all Hoot did: He bagged his 21st homer, two triples, a double and a single. In addition, he turned in three nifty catches and rammed full speed into the left field wall trying to haul down a double by Bob Kennedy in the eighth.

Cleveland got off to an auspicious start with a seven-run first inning against Tiger ace right-hander Art Houtteman. Al Rosen's 34th homer and a surprise two-run homer off the bat of pitcher Bobby Feller figured in it.

Detroit banged four runs across in its half to send Feller to the showers.

All that set the tempo for a battle which saw nine pitchers in action, five home runs, 30 base hits and seven errors.

Detroit tied at all in the fifth only to see the Indians move out in front 10-7 in the sixth against relief pitcher Hal White.

The Rolfemen kept battling away and when the eighth was over it was 11-11 tie on the basis of Evers' 21st homer.

Larry Doby boomed the Indians out in front once more as he hit his 22nd homer, a two-run wallop off Hank Borowy, in the top of the 10th.

But again the Tigers were far from through as they roared back to tie it up for the last time at 13-13.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting Hoot Evers, Tigers—Drove in six runs on a homer, two triples, double and single as Detroit battled Cleveland to 13-13 10-inning tie.

Pitching, Bob Rush, Cubs—Pitched Chicago to 4-2, two-hit victory over St. Louis.

Half of all traffic fatalities occur at intersections of streets and highways.

Here is how:

Hoot Evers and Vic Wertz singled successively and Johnny Groth walked to load the bases with none out. A squeeze play failed with Wertz out at the plate while Gerry Priddy went to first on a fielder's choice.

Catcher Joe Ginsberg sent Evers across with a long fly ball. Pinch-hitter Charlie Keller smashed a single to send Groth home with the tying run that made it 13-13. Don Kolloway hit into a force play and the ball game was over as darkness forced the umpires to call it.

The game will be replayed Sept. 30 as part of a doubleheader.

Capt. Al Wahl Pleases Coach

Michigan Tackle One Of Finest

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—The speed and beef of a former army boxing champion will help make Michigan tough at tackle in the coming football season.

Big, (6-3, 220 pounds) Capt. Al Wahl, is already written down in many a book as one of the very finest tackles in the nation, a title which Line Coach Jack Blott readily endorses.

Michigan's number one defensive lineman last year, Wahl is the best bet to play both phases of the game if Coach Bennie Oosterbaan feels it necessary in the 1950 season.

"He lacked confidence when he came to us in the 1945 season," explains Oosterbaan. "But after a hitch in the army, he returned in 1948 with all the poise in the world."

That hitch in the army apparently did the trick. Wahl boxed his way to the area Golden Gloves championship with 14 knockouts in 17 tries.

He brought back to Michigan the speed, mental alertness and rugged confidence that has made the 22-year-old, Oak Park, Ill., senior invaluable.

Wahl will spearhead the right side of the Michigan line, with help from Bill Ohlenroth and possibly Gene Hinton and Art Dunne, while Tom Johnson holds most of the other assignment.

Wahl combines the technical ability now with a brand of leadership that is inseparable from winning football.

The hulking, smiling tackle is easily approached and well-liked by every squad member. At the same time, he is dedicated to the game with an earnestness that inspires the rookie and veteran alike.

These qualities were evident yesterday as Blott continued the grueling line drills that he hopes will whip things into shape in time for the opener here against Michigan State college three weeks hence.

The line coach is stirring up a brew of perspiration, muscle strain, bumps, bruises and fatigue which should vulcanize his candidates into what is fast becoming known as a typical Blott line.

That means a line with speed and smartness.

While Blott poured the work on linemen yesterday, Oosterbaan whipped his backfield men through another day of skull session, signal drills and pass plays.

not be turned on in such a situation unless it was the visiting teams last series. Cleveland has three more games to play against the Tigers here.

For the record, these were the homers:

Indian first: Rosen hit No. 34 to score behind Larry Doby. Bob Feller hit No. 2 to score three runs.

Detroit fifth: Priddy hit No. 10 with none on.

Detroit eighth: Hoot Evers hit No. 21 with one man on.

Indians ninth: Doby banged his 22nd with one aboard.

Players Want Cut of TV Pay

$800,000 Paid For World Series

By CHARLES C. CAIN

DETROIT—(AP)—Major league baseball players are readying a program aimed at getting a share of the money paid for televising the World Series and regular season baseball games.

This was confirmed today by pitcher Freddy Hutchinson of the Detroit Tigers, player representative for the American league in negotiations with club owners.

Hutchinson declared that sentiment in favor of getting a cut of the TV receipts is widespread among the ball players.

"As far as the American league players are concerned, our first goal is to try to get a cut of the $800,000 being paid for TV rights to this year's World Series," Hutchinson said.

Talked to Chandler
He disclosed that he held a preliminary conference on the matter with baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler when the latter was here last month to address a football banquet.

Hutchinson said that he also has been in consultation with Marty Marion of the St. Louis Cardinals, National league player representative.

"I have asked Commissioner Chandler to set a date for a meeting with Marion and me to talk the thing over," Hutchinson added. He said Chandler had given preliminary approval to the meeting but had not set the date yet.

Chandler said at Cincinnati that he had "no information on the matter."

Hutchinson said the American league players were stirred into action when the Gillette Razor company put up $800,000 for video rights.

"As things stand now, none of that money will go to the players' pool and we feel that some of it certainly should go to the fellows

Red Hot Boston Big Menace In American League Tussle

By RALPH RODEN

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Detroit Tigers are back on top in the pulse-pounding American league pennant race today but they had one eye cocked on Steve O'Neill's Boston Red Sox, moving up fast on the outside.

Boston, which has just defeated the New York Yankees in two straight games, is the hottest team in the league. The millionaires have won 20 of their last 23 games, including 18 of 19 in their own Fenway park.

Their two victories over the Yankees knocked the New Yorkers out of the lead and restored Detroit to the top by the skinny margin of two percentage points. The morning Sox are third, a game and a half behind.

The situation at a glance:

	W	L	Pct.	GB
Detroit	32	48	.631
New York	33	49	.629
Boston	32	51	.617 1 1/2
Cleveland	30	54	.597 4

Creating almost as much furor as the Red Sox are the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National League chase. The Brooks have knocked off the league-leading Philadelphia Phils three straight times in the Quaker city to move to within 4 1/2 games of Eddie Sawyer's reeling whiz kids.

Can They Keep It Up?

The big question facing the Red Sox is: can they keep up their terrific pace on the road? Or will they tail off as in the last two seasons? They hit the rails after a weekend series with the Philadelphia Athletics, whom they've beaten eight straight at Boston. Boston's road record is 33-32 compared to 49-19 in their own ballpark.

The Red Sox road record against contenders is pretty sad. They have won only two of seven in Cleveland, three of six in New York and four of nine in Detroit. The Sox and Yankees are idle today while the Tigers take on the sixth-place White Sox in Chicago.

Both the Red Sox and Tigers had on their hitting clothes yesterday. The Sox outslugged the Yankees, 10-8, while the Tigers battled the Cleveland Indians to a slambang 13-13 10-inning tie that was halted by darkness.

The Red Sox pounded four Yankee pitchers for 12 hits with big Walt Dropo leading the way. Dropo drove home five runs on a double and his 31st and 32nd home runs.

Browns Take Sox

Ted Williams of the Red Sox made his first appearance since he was injured in the All-Star game and received a tremendous ovation. Ted, pinch hitting in the fifth, was intentionally walked.

In other American league games Dick Starr pitched the St. Louis Browns to a 6-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox and Philadelphia downed Washington, 4-2.

A brilliant relief stint by Ralph Branca in the eighth and ninth featured Brooklyn's 3-2 conquest over the Phils in a night game at Philadelphia.

Branca relieved winner Carl Erskine in the eighth inning after Richie Ashburn tripled to begin the frame and promptly struck out Willie Jones and Del Ennis and got Jack Mayo to foul out. He nailed the Phils in order in the ninth. Ennis homered to account for both Philadelphia runs.

The third-place Boston Braves also gained ground by stopping the New York Giants, 6-4. Cincinnati edged Pittsburgh, 6-4. Ralph Kiner slugged his 43rd homer for the Pirates.

Bob Rush pitched Chicago to a 4-2 victory over the Cards at St. Louis. Hal Rice got both Card hits, a fifth-inning single and eighth-inning homer.

Women Champions In Exhibition At Escanaba Course

Miss Roselyn Caley, Menominee, 1950 U. P. women's golf champion; Miss Yvonne Colby, Sault Ste. Marie, 1949 U. P. women's champion; and Mrs. Donald LeMire, 1950 Escanaba women's champion are playing an exhibition match at the Escanaba golf club this afternoon.

Dick Knop, Escanaba club professional, completes the foursome in the exhibition contest.

Weary Korean Refugees Get Rough Handling

By BEM PRICE
(For HAL BOYLE)

WITH U. S. SECOND DIVISION, KOREA—(P)—Thousands of South Korean refugees were prodded down a dusty road today to get them off the main supply route to the fighting front.

South Koreans and U. S. military police were doing the prodding. There must have been 5,000 to 7,000 of the homeless—stretched out in single file over ten miles of road.

Handing Out Candy

They were the innocent bystanders of a war in whose making they had no part. And it didn't help their understanding to be boosted along—at times by force.

Unable to make one aged and bewildered Korean understand that he and his ox must move to the side to make room for a truck, an MP just pushed him over then failed the ox to one side with the butt of his carbine.

To their credit, though, I saw other MP's passing out cigarettes and occasionally cans of rations.

One dust-caked GI handed an aged woman a candy ration from his pocket. She said her thanks and moved on.

These people were refugees from the fighting around Yongsan.

Driven from their homes, they walked down the nearest road away from danger. The army decided they should walk back. They were being herded back to Yongsan and then north to shelter where presumably they would be in nobody's way.

All In Rags

The column was made up mainly of old men, women and children.

One of the few young men in the column trudged by, head down, with an old woman strapped to his back. She had been shot through both feet.

One by one they struggled by, heads bent against the swirling dust from passing trucks.

Even the very small children, boys and girls alike, were carrying loads big enough to stagger an average man.

All were in rags. Their faces were greenish under the dirt. They talked very little. On occasion, some raised their faces for a moment, deadpan.

Under a broiling sun they waited "mizu, mizu," Japanese for water. Some dropped out of the column to fill hats, buckets, anything, with water from the rice paddies.

Astronomers have difficulty in calculating movements of the moon, because it is so near.

Bookkeeper Turns To Rosin

LAKE BUTLER, Fla.—(P)—One day Tom Aycock of the Aycock-Lindsey Corporation, a turpentine firm here, mentioned that he needed another rosin grader. Margaret Raulerson, a bookkeeper for the firm, said jokingly: "Let me grade it."

He did and now Miss Raulerson is the first woman authorized by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to grade rosin.

"I was a trifle nervous at first," she said. "But I got over that and finally caught on."

In her work Miss Raulerson classifies the rosin after it is processed in the firm's twin-drum still and put in drums. She compares samples from each drum with a U. S. Bureau of Standards grading chart. On an average she grades about 42 drums a day.
